

MISSING STUDENT

Due to the nature of a commuter campus, it is often difficult to ascertain whether a student is 'missing' or has simply not shown up for class for legitimate reasons. However, this does not abdicate the responsibility that the college has toward verifying the health and safety of its students. Should a student, faculty or employee member feel that a student is 'missing', they should contact the Dean of Student Affairs immediately. The Dean will then utilize the resources that they have at their disposal to ascertain and verify the disposition of the student. While the exact nature of the student's absence may not be disclosed, the reporter will be informed that action has taken place.